

CALL FOR PAPERS 2022

C&T | N.º 7

The international journal of art and anthropology of images, Cinema & Território, intends to gather, in its n.º 7-2022 under the theme VARIA -, works that mirror an interdisciplinary and diversified vision, through an extended contribution to the vast area that the concept of territory brings us and cinema promotes.

THEME: *VARIA

For issue n.º 7 of Cinema & Território journal, the central theme will be VARIA, to allow for a diverse range of contributions, whose themes cross several scientific fields related to cinema and the territories in which it moves, whether in the genre or field of study that conditions/shapes the gaze on the screen. To vary is to leave the mainstream, to be permeable to less expected artistic contagions. It is to “drink” from a driving artistic expression and breathe new life into it. In the same way that musical variation contains a formal technique, but equally triggers a free alteration made of melodic, rhythmic, or orchestration changes, variation or variety in cinema also presupposes starting from a basic disciplinary formality to embark on a journey through expressions, languages, and impulses only limited by the artist's imagination. In the encounter between cinema and territory, we invite potential authors to submit proposals that reflect variety, variation, and vary, or in other words, the interdisciplinary confluence, the richness of expressions, and the countering of uniformity.
